

Sioux Falls topped the list of Top Up-and-Coming Cities for Recent College Grads according to ZipRecruiter. (June 2015)

WalletHub named Sioux Falls 2nd best metro in terms of budgeting. Residents had the 4th lowest rate of foreclosure and percent of credit usage. (April 2015)

Sioux Falls was ranked 3rd in Forbes 2015 list of Best Small Places for Business and Careers. (July 2015)

Sioux Falls was rated the 3rd most livable city in the medium range population category according to AARP. (April 2015)

NerdWallet identified Sioux Falls as the 3rd best mid-sized city for women in the workforce. (March 2015)

The Sioux Falls Bike Trail was rated third best in the nation according to Fodor's Travel Guide's "America's Best Urban Bike Paths". (May 2015)

Sioux Falls was listed as the 4th best city to find a job in 2015 according to WalletHub. (January 2015)

ZipRecruiter ranked Sioux Falls 4th in their list of the best job markets for 2015. (February 2015)

WalletHub named Sioux Falls the 5th best city for families out of the 150 largest cities in the US. (June 2015)

Sioux Falls tied for 5th lowest concentration of economically disadvantaged residents according to WalletHub. (December 2015)

The website smartasset.com says Sioux Falls is the 5th best city in the U.S. for working seniors. (July 2015)

BroadbandNow released a study naming the top 10 best cities to work from home listing Sioux Falls 5th. (February 2015)

Trivago.com named Sioux Falls a 2016 US Best Value City; ranking 5th best. (October 2015)

Sioux Falls ranks among the best cities to start a business according to WalletHub; ranking 6th among the 150 largest cities in the country. (April 2015)

Sioux Falls is the nation's 7th minor league market according to the Sports Business Journal. (August 2015)

Sioux Falls, SD . . . a great place to live, work and play in 2015!

According to DatingAdvice.com, Sioux Falls is the 8th best city to start a family. (April 2015)

Sioux Falls ranked 8th in POLICOM's 2015 Economic Strength Ranking. (March / 2015)

WalletHub's 2015 Best & Worst Cities to Start a Career ranked Sioux Falls 9th best overall. (May 2015)

Livability.com ranked Sioux Falls the 10th best place to live in their 2016 list of the 100 Best Places. (September 2015)

Sioux Falls is a top 10 metro area for economic vitality according to Stateline – The Pew Charitable Trusts. (April 2015)

AARP ranked Downtown Sioux Falls one of the 10 Most Livable Neighborhoods in their Livability Index. (April 2015)

Milken Institute ranked Sioux Falls the 24th Best-Performing City in 2014 in terms of where America's jobs are created and sustained. (January 2015)

WalletHub listed Sioux Falls the 24th hardest working city in America in a 2015 ranking; with a labor force participation rate of 83.17 percent. (February 2015)

Sioux Falls was named one of America's 50 most innovative tech hubs, ranking 32nd, according to NerdWallet (February 2015)

Sioux Falls was named one of Area Development's 100 Leading Locations; creating a track record of economic success. 53rd among all MSAs in the nation and 18th among all mid-sized cities (Q2, 2015)

In their 2015 Community Index, Fourth Economy ranked Minnehaha County 3rd among counties of 150,000-499,999 people for its ability to attract and retain investment while bolstering communities against economic fluctuation. (March 2015)

The Small Business & Entrepreneurship Council named South Dakota 1st in their Small Business Tax Index 2015: Best to Worst State Tax System for Entrepreneurship and Small Business. (April 2015)

Avera & Sanford Health were named to the Health Care's Most Wired list (Fall 2015)

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation named South Dakota the best state in the nation for its business climate; and 4th for its talent pipeline as part of its Enterprising States report. (October 2015)

Sioux Falls, South Dakota . . . making headlines in 2015!

Thrillist dubbed South Dakota “America’s most underrated state” and calls Sioux Falls “the best small city in America you haven’t been to”. (October 2015)

According to the Tax Foundation’s 2015 Facts & Figures comparing the states, South Dakota ranks 2nd best overall in their business tax climate index with the 3rd least state/local tax burden in the U.S. (2015)

The Mercatus Center released their study “Ranking the States by Fiscal Condition” listing South Dakota as the 3rd best state in the nation. (July 2015)

Forbes ranked South Dakota 3rd best in the list of Best & Worst States for Taxes. (June 2015)

Your money goes farther in South Dakota (3rd most) according to an analysis released by the Tax Foundation. (July 2015)

South Dakota ranked 3rd in Gallup Healthway’s 2014 State of American Well-Being Index (February 2015) as well as 3rd in their Well-Being Rankings for Older Americans. (July 2015)

SmartAsset named South Dakota the 3rd best state for homeowners. (September 2015)

MarketWatch named South Dakota the 4th most tax-friendly state for retirees. (June 2015)

South Dakota was 4th best over-all among states in the First in Financial Freedom Index released by the John Locke Foundation; ranking 1st in fiscal freedom, 2nd in health care freedom and 3rd in regulatory freedom. States that score high in these categories have high levels of growth and strong economies. (February 2015)

South Dakota had the 5th highest financial well-being in the nation; with midwestern states holding six of the top ten scores in 2014 according to a report released by Gallup-Healthways. (2015)

South Dakota ranks as the 6th most money-savvy state according to a survey by GOBankingRates.com. (October 2015)

South Dakota had the 7th lowest obesity rate among the states according to Gallup. (May 2015)

According to the Gallup Job Creation Index, 2014, South Dakota ranked high in their annual ranking of state job markets – 8th best hiring climate. (February 2015)

Kiplinger named South Dakota the 9th most tax-friendly state for retirees. (October 2015)

Bankrate.com ranked best states for drivers listing South Dakota 9th best; noting low car-theft rates and insurance premiums and short commute times. (August 2015)

Forbes named South Dakota the 9th best state for business and careers. (November 2015)

South Dakota was ranked by CNBC as America's 11th Top State for Business 2015. (June 2015)

Sioux Falls
SOUTH DAKOTA

Better business. Better life.