

Week of August 28th, 2017

Tea Weekly – A trade team from the Philippines visited area farmer Dave Poppens’ fields on August 19. Poppens serves as South Dakota’s representative on the American Soybean Association. The delegation also made stops in Elk Point, Brookings and Volga.

Minnehaha Messenger – Filly Flair Boutique has been voted into the final round of the 2017 Boutique Awards as a contender for Online Boutique of the Year. Laura Benson opened Filly Flair in 2010.

Garretson Gazette – The Garretson School has undergone a minor cosmetic makeover. Changes in paint colors and lighting bring a new look to the school campus.

Lennox Independent – The kitchen is now open at Beamer’s Pub on Main Street. The new location is at First Avenue and Main Street and is open seven days a week.

Lennox Independent – The Lennox School District welcomed 19 new staff members and reports a fall enrollment of 1,055 students.

Brandon Valley Challenger – Beautique Boutique, which opened three years ago, is in the final round of the 2017 Boutique Awards. The business is also up for the Best Boutique in South Dakota and Best Storefront in South Dakota. From among 4,000 boutiques worldwide, Beautique and Filly Flair are two local businesses in the final round for the top award.

Sioux Falls Business – Worthing offers many reasons for people to visit. The Olde Towne Dinner Theatre is entering its 35th season this fall and sells out most every show. The City of Worthing recently installed a 9-hole disc golf course with some challenging obstacles and Kim’s Korner Bar and Grill is a favorite for wings, burgers and mutton chislic.
